

EXPERIENCE SAXONY-ANHALT

Unique Saale-Unstrut

Saale-Unstrut is a charming region in the heart of Germany with a rich cultural landscape and a wine-growing tradition going back to the High Middle Ages. The unique architectural heritage of the area, which dates back over 1000 years of European history, and its unspoiled river landscapes and old vineyards make this an inspiring vacation destination. Vines have been grown here since the year 998 and the tradition still continues today. Vineyards with steep terraces, dry stone walls and beautiful old houses characterize the region. More than 50 grape varieties are currently cultivated in the wine-growing district, which covers an area of around 768 hectares.

Imposing castles and palaces and magnificent cathedrals, abbeys and churches are a striking reminder of the region's medieval history. These include Naumburg Cathedral, which was awarded UNESCO World Heritage status in 2018. It is also home to a statue of the founder figure Uta, who is famous far beyond the region's borders.

Several cycle routes run through the picturesque river valleys in the area. The Unstrut and Saale Cycle Paths are particularly popular with cyclists. The Sky Paths route transports visitors into the worlds of archaeology and astronomy and introduces them to the world-famous Nebra Sky Disc. Saale-Unstrut also has an extensive network of hiking paths covering a total of 1300 kilometers. From long-distance routes to family-friendly paths, there is something for everyone to enjoy.
